WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Special Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 12, 1895.

Spain now has her turn at the demand business. She isn't making a demand that the United States shall apologize, but her minister has been instructed to ask that this government will officially disavow the sentiments alleged to have been expressed by Ambassador Eustis in an interview published by a Paris newspaper. Ambassador Eustis has already repudiated that alleged interview, which he branded as a fake, but that has no effect upon the Spanish minister, who has gone to Massachusetts for the purpose of presenting his demand to Secretary Olney in person, not caring to deal with the subordinate who is in charge of the State department. The Spanish minister probably knows, in common with everybody else, that Ambassador Eustis never expressed, for publication, the sentiments credited to him in that interview, but he doubtless thinks it a good opportunity to get the U. S. government to officially say that it does not sympathize with the Cuban rebellion, or something to that effect. If it be true that Secretary Olney has been listening to the seductive buzzing of the presidential idea, the Spanish minister may be sorry he made that demand, as the Secretary may see in it an opportunity to give his candidacy a boost by making the American eagle let out a scream or two. It is more probable, however, that the denial of the interview by Ambassador Eustis will be considered a sufficient answer to the demand. Spain would do well to be very careful, about such demands. This government is, of course, neutral, but there is little doubt that an overwhelming majority of the people in this country sympathize with the Cubans and would at a pinch help them throw off Spanish rule.

Ex-Secretary of State Foster, who has just returned from China, where it is said he was paid the modest fee of $250,000 for acting as diplomatic adviser to the Chinese government in the peace negotiations with Japan, brought some real political news to Washington, if what he says about ex-President Harrison can be depended upon. He is Mr. Harrison's close personal and political friend and was Secretary of State after Mr. Blaine resigned. For that reason what he says has been received with ready credence on the part of many who have believed directly to the contrary up to this time. Mr. Foster said: "I do not know how this Indiana delegation will stand. Of course if Mr. Harrison were a candidate they would go to the convention pledged to him for they are loyal to his interests and would like to see him in the White House again. But Mr. Harrison is not a candidate. He is making no effort for the nomination. If the feeling throughout the party in favor of Mr. Harrison should be so strong as to make it evident that the general desire was for his renomination, then, of course, the delegation from Indiana would fall in line; but, as matters now stand, with no candidate from their own state, I think the Indiana delegates will go to the convention without any pronounced preference. Some of them will be of the Republicans in the state are for Allison, some for McKinley, others for Reed, if the inclinations to be taken as an indication of their probable action." It may be that Mr. Foster really thinks as he talks, but some of the shrewdest politicians who come to Washington, including members of all parties, believe that Mr. Harrison is pulling all the wires in his reach to get that nomination.

The impression in Washington, regardless of opinions on the silver question, is that the proposition for a joint debate on the silver question made by ex-Congressman Warner as president of the American Bimetallic League, to ex-Secretary Fairchild, in his official capacity of chairman of the Committee on sound currency of the New York Reform Club, will not be accepted.

For the first time the Chinese question is locally a live one in Washington. The Chinese colony has been increasing so rapidly that some of them have had a struggle to live and play fair. Some of the boldest of these sought to boom the laundry business by cutting the prices to the extent of about 20 per cent. This stirred up the rest of them and it is said that Chinese high-binders have tried to kill several of the price cutters, but that's all among themselves. The question has been brought home to the community by the issuing of an appeal by the big steam laundries requesting the people not to patronize the Chinese, and stating that if they do wages of American laundry employees will be cut.

INTO SPACE.

Dr. Jones Leaped and Lighted on Stones That Broke His Bones.

LEXINGTON, KY., July 11.—Dr. Edward Jones, an inmate of the Eastern Kentucky insane asylum, met with a tragic death at that institution today. His attendant left him in the room about six o'clock this morning and went out to get his breakfast. He had hardly reached the stairway before the demented doctor had thrown up the window and was posed upon the sill looking toward the ground fifty feet below. With a wild yell he leaped into space and in a minute later was lying upon the brick sidewalk groaning in the agony of his wounds, while the blood gushed from a gash in his skull at the base of his brain. His cries attracted the attention of several attendants, who rushed to the scene. He was removed to the asylum hospital, where it was found that in addition to the fracture of the skull both his left leg and arm had been broken. While his hands were being dressed he talked in a wild, rambling way about everything under the sun but his reason for so rash an act. An hour or two later he became unconscious, and remained so, dying shortly past noon.

Dr. Edward Jones was one of the best known physicians in the state. Born at Paris, Kentucky, sixty years ago he became a surgeon in the confederate army, serving in Breckinridge's brigade. At the conclusion of the war he became assistant superintendent of the Eastern Kentucky asylum in this city, and remained in that capacity, until with Dr. Silas Evans, he established High Oaks Sanitarium ten years ago.

Two years ago his close confinement to the duties of superintendent of the sanitarium caused softening of the brain, and later on loss of mind. He was then placed in the asylum, where he remained until his death.

Shoes Made Of Paste.

"For years," said a Maine manufacturer, "shoes of a cheap grade have been made of what is known as leatherboard. It is a compressed paste. There is a factory in my state which turns out tons of it every month. Many of these shoes are sent to Central and South America, and, as a matter of fact, thousands are sold here. As long as the weather is dry they wear first-rate, but when you strike a rain you are gone almost surely. Two wettings and you want to look out. When you invest in your summer shoes be sure they are what you want. Leather is expensive, and you can't cover your feet with it for a trifl."

A little boy said that he always gave everybody in the house candy as well as by the sunshine and breezes of summer. His too-nails looked like the hoofs of some wild animal, and his finger-nails were on the same order.

RESERVATIONS TO BE OPENED.

Secretary Smith Forced to Act in the Nez Perces Case.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—Senator Dubois, of Idaho, spent some time with Secretary Smith today insisting that the Nez Perces reservation be open to settlement. The last congress approved an agreement with the Indians leading up to the opening to settlement of that reservation, which will then open over 500,000 acres of the best land in northern Idaho. There are many thousands of would-be settlers located on the border, who expect the opening daily. It is provided that the Indians be paid $1,000,000 for their land, the $600,000 to be paid when the country is opened to settlement and the remaining $1,000,000 in three equal annual installments.

Secretary Smith admits having delayed the opening as much as possible, his plan being to keep the money in the treasury. For this reason the settlers were delayed, and now it happens that the Secretary has been informed that unless he complies with the plain meaning of the law, legal steps will be taken to force his compliance. This would be a novel procedure and one that the Secretary would not enjoy, as it seems, for he made the promise today that the reservation should be open to settlement by the 1st of August.

For some time everything has been in readiness to open the reservation, but, owing to the administration's plan to make as good a financial showing in the last fiscal year as possible, the final parliamentary action has been delayed. It is now assured that the reservation will be opened to settlement within the next three weeks.

The Idaho senators are also pressing for departmental action in the Fort Hall tangle. The agreement with the Indians leading up to opening that reservation of 1,200,000 acres to settlement was approved by the last congress, but so far the Secretary of the Interior has delayed allotments and all departmental work. It is expected, however, to have this reservation opened to settlement by the 1st of October next.

LIKE AN ANIMAL.

An Indiana Man Who Thinks God Commanded Him to Live in Seclusion.

PETERSBURG, IND., JULY 10.—A hermit dwells in the Patoka bottoms near the railroad station called Heyden, a few miles below this place. He lives all alone and disregards the advantages of civilization. With no one to comfort him, with nothing with which to enjoy the comforts of life he whiles away his time in the wilderness of the lonely woods. Some time ago a number of pleasure seekers went to Heyden to enjoy a day's fishing, and as some of the gentlemen of the party were making their way through a dense growth of underbrush near the river they made the startling discovery of a wild-looking man lying on the ground. His very inadequate shelter consists only of a few boards placed on four posts, about five or six feet in height. There was no siding or anything which would keep out the winter's snows or summer's rains, and the only furniture which it contained was a small stove, a skillet and two pieces of old dirty carpet.

When questioned by one of the men he said his name was Bill Cox, and that he was born and raised in Gibson county, Indiana. He was a horrible looking creature, with long hair all over his face, and apparently about 45 years of age.

His complexion was dark and swarthy, and showed that it had been browned by the blasts of winter as well as by the sunshine and breezes of summer. His too-nails looked like the hoofs of some wild animal, and his finger-nails were on the same order.

He is an American in naturity, and has never been married. Following is the story he told of himself to one of the party: He said that a few years ago he moved to Kansas with some of his relations with the expectation of making that state his future home. They had been installed in their new home but a short time, when one by one the family began to die, until none were left but him.

Upon awakening one morning, he says, he heard some mysterious voice whispering in his ear. It told him his life was in great danger, and for him to leave the state at once. The next day he left Kansas and wandered East until he found this secluded spot in the Patoka bottoms, where he has dwelt ever since subsisting on roots, herbs, berries, insects, etc. He said, in conclusion he thought his hermit way of living was a punishment sent upon him in attorneyment for some sin he has committed, but he says he cannot change his course, as God commands it, and he must obey these commands. He has no education at all, and cares nothing for civilization or society, his highest ambition being to obtain enough food to live on, and to be left alone to enjoy the quiet and solitude of his lonely habitation.

A WOMAN OF NERVE.

Mad Dog Captured and Chloroformed By Miss West, of Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—A young woman made a clever capture of a mad dog here yesterday afternoon. She is Miss Roberta West, the pretty matron of the Emergency Hospital. The dog, a full grown fox terrier, had run into the hospital yard, and was rushing hither and thither to find his way out again. The black janitor ran for him with a broom, but on seeing his foam-flecked mouth fled into the hospital. Miss West was at the window watching the Sunday-school children pass on the walk just beyond the fence through which the mad dog was trying to break. Spying the dog, she turned and grabbed a sheet from a bed and ran into the yard. The dog saw her and rushed for her. She took hold of the two upper ends of the sheet and let the lower end fall to the ground just before the dog had reached her. Then stepping quickly back as the dog's foot touched the sheet, she lowered her end, bent it over the dog, grabbed the lower ends, and then straightening up, had the struggling terrier like a rat in a trap. Amid the applause of those who saw her skillful act, she carried her prisoner to the operating room, sprinkled chloroform on the sheet and before long the dog was dead.

MISS KEY ALMOST PENITLESS.

Granddaughter of the Author of "Star Spangled Banner."

WASHINGTON, JULY 8.—"We will be without a penny in the world next Monday week" was the way her condition and that of her aged and blind mother was described Saturday by Miss Elizabeth Key, granddaughter of Francis Scott Key, the author of "The Star Spangled Banner." This affectionate daughter has had a hard time since she was dropped from the roll of clerks in the office of Commissioner Lothrop, of the pension office. Miss Key was appointed a clerk through the influence of the late Senator Pendleton, of Ohio. Friends have intervened with the pension office authorities for the reinstatement of Miss Key, but without avail. Secretary of Agriculture Morton called at the city to investigate the case, but was informed that Miss Key was dismissed for "inefficiency." She said that at the time of her dismissal was simply the counting of slips. Her influence appears to have gone, but she still has some hope that the Key Monument association of Frederick City, Md., may be of some assistance.

7,000,000,000 HORSE POWER.

Niagara Falls Has Already Been Partly Harnesses.

Niagara represents a potential force equal to that of all the coal mined in the world, computed at 7,000,000 horse power, all of which has been running to waste for countless ages and eons since the cataract first blew its trumpet from the steep and hung the rain low amid its ascending spray. The economist may repine that so much working energy has so long been thrown away, but a sentiment of exultation that some part of it is now to be girded in the harness of the world's industry is more correctly in order.

Skillful engineers declare that the available power of the falls, leaving its spectacular grandeur entirely unimpaired, will turn every wheel, run every trolley and light every city and town within a radius of 200 miles, and one of the most eminent among them says it can be conveyed in any desired volume as far away as Chicago or New York. The first wheel has just been set in motion equal to the transmission of 5,000 horsepower, to be increased according to existing charters something like one hundredfold as the need for it is developed. Henceforth Niagara possesses an industrial interest equal to that to which it has always had as one of the most majestic spectacles on the globe, this attribution shorn of none of its glories by the creation of its new and stupendous utilities.

The success of the work there shows that all waterfalls can be harnessed to production and made to do a part of man's work, and they will be one after another, all over the world, producing industrial effects comparable with those following the invention of the steam engine. The day of the first turning of the electrical wheel there was memorable and introduces the cataract to a new function almost as grandiose as its promise and possibility as its appearance has always been.—New York Tribune.

A WIPE HUNTER.

Gets a Stack of Letters From Willing Young Ladies.

NEW YORK, July 9.—There is a stack of letters at the Marriage Bureau in the city hall for Orin H. Holt, the young Canadian farmer, who has come to New York looking for a wife.

Mr. Holt yesterday announced that he had come all the way from Ontario to get a good looking and healthy New York girl, who has $3,000 or $4,000 in addition to other qualifications; he thinks the wife of a well-to-do, good-looking healthy farmer should have. He bars widows.

The clerks in the Marriage Bureau told him they would help him out, and the newspaper reporters volunteered to assist by telling some of the very many girls they know, who have $3,000 and want to get married, that Mr. Holt is in town. They did so, and when Mr. Holt tried to go to sleep last night in a house on West Eighteenth st., where he is staying, a band of girls called to see him. He didn't get much sleep.

Holt promised to call at the city hall today and look over any girls who filled the bill. Only two showed up. One was a blonde of 24, but she wouldn't suit Mr. Holt. She said she had been on the stage, and wanted to know how much money Mr. Holt had.

"Maybe he's looking for something easy," she said, "and hasn't got a dollar. Now I want to get married, and I've got some money, but the man I marry has got to have a roll that won't break for some time. I thought I'd come down and look at him."

She didn't, because Mr. Holt had not shown up. The other caller was also of the blonde order, but would not volunteer information about herself.

TALMAGE.

A Warning to the Overworked and Worn ried Business Men.

In his sermon for July 7th, Dr. Talmage, who is still absent on his Western lecturing tour, chose a subject of universal interest, viz.: "Business Troubles." The text selected being Ezekiel xxvii, 24: "These were thy merchants in all sorts of things."

We see at the opening door of returning national prosperity. The comming crops, the re-establishment of public confidence, and, above all, the blessing of God, will turn in upon all sections of America the wildest, greatest prosperity this country has ever seen. But that door of success is not yet fully open, and thousands of business men are yet suffering from the distressing times through which we have been passing.

Some of the best men in the land have faltered; men whose hearts are enlisted in every good work, and whose hands have blessed every great charity. The Church of God can afford to extend to them her sympathies, and plead before heaven with all-availing prayer. The schools such men have established, the churches they have built, the asylums and benevolent institutions they have fostered will be their eulogy long after their banking institutions are forgotten. Such men can never fail. They have their treasures in banks that never break, and will be millionaires forever. But I thought it would be appropriate, today, and useful for me to talk about the trials and temptations of our business men, and try to offer some curative prescriptions.

In the first place, I have to remark that a great many of our business men feel ruinous trials and temptations coming to them from small and limited capital in business. It is everywhere understood that it takes now three or four times as much to do business well as once it did. Once, a few hundred dollars were turned into goods—the merchant would be his own store-sweeper, his own salesman, his own book-keeper, he would manage all the affairs himself, and everything would be net profit. Wonderful changes have come; costly apparatus, extensive advertising, exorbitant store rents, heavy taxation, expensive agencies are only parts of the demand made upon our commercial men; and when they have found themselves in such circumstances with small capital, they have sometimes been tempted to run against the rocks of moral and financial destruction. This temptation of limited capital has ruined men in two ways. Sometimes they have shrunk down under temptation. They have yielded to the battle before the first shot was fired. At the first hard dun they surrendered. Their knees knocked together at the fall of the auctioneer's hammer. They blanched at the financial peril. They did not understand that there is such a thing as heroism in merchandise, and that there are Waterloos of the counter, and that a man can fight no braver battle with the sword than he can fight with the yardstick. Their souls melted in them because sugars were up when they wanted to buy and down when they wanted to sell, and unsalable goods were on the shelf, and bad debts in their ledger. The gloom of their countenances overshadowed even their dry goods and groceries. Despondency, coming from limited capital, blasted them. Others have felt it in a different way. They have said: "Here I have been trudging along. I have been trying to be honest all these years. I find it is no use. Now it is make or break." The small craft that could have stood the stream, is put out beyond the light house, on the great sea of speculation. He borrows a few thousand dollars from friends who dare not refuse him, and he goes bartering on a large scale. He reasons in this way: "Perhaps I may succeed, and if I don't I will be no worse than I am now, for $100,000 taken from nothing, nothing remains." Stocks are the dice with which he gambles. He bought for a few dollars vast tracts of Western land. Some man at the East, living on a fair homestead, meets this gamblers of fortune, and is persuaded to trade off his estate for lots in a Western city with large avenues, and costly places, and lake steamboats a smoking at the wharves, and railroad trains coming down with lightning speed from every direction. There it is all on paper! The city has never been built, nor the railroads constructed, but everything points that way, and the thing will be done as sure as you live. Well the man goes on, stopping at no fraud or outrage. In his splendid equipage he dashes past, while the honest laborer looks up and wipes the sweat from his brow, and he says, "I wonder where that man got all his money." After awhile the bubble bursts. Creditors rush in. The law clutches, but finds nothing in its grasp. The men who were swindled say: "I don't know how I could have ever been deceived by that man;" and the pictorial, in handsome wood-cuts, set forth the hero who in ten years had genius enough to fail for $150,000!

And this is the process by which many have been tempted through lack of capital to rush into labyrinths from which they could not be extricated. I would not want to block up any of the avenues for honest accumulation that open before young men. On the contrary, I would like to cheer them on, and rejoice when they reach the goal; but when there are such multitudes of men going to ruin for this life and the life that is to come, through wrong notions of what are lawful spheres of enterprise, it is the duty of the Church of God, and the ministers of religion, and the friends of all young men, to utter a plain, emphatic, unmistakable protest. These are the influences that drown men in destruction and perdition.

Again, a great many business men are tempted to overanxiety and care. You know that nearly all commercial businesses are overdone in this day. Smitten with the love of quick gain, our cities are crowded with men resolved to be rich at all hazards. They do not care how money comes, if it only comes. Our best merchants are thrown into competition with men of more means and less conscience, and if an opportunity of accumulation be neglected one hour, some one else picks it up. From January to December the child will not be attended to unless the father looks to it. He must sometimes lose his dignity. He must unlimber his joints. He must sometimes lead them out to their sports and games. The parent who cannot forget the severe duties of life sometimes, to fly the kite, and trundle the hoop, and chase the ball, and jump the rope with his children, ought never to have been tempted out of a crusty and unredeemable solitariness. If you want to keep your children away from places of sin you can only do it by making your home attractive. You may preach sermons, and advocate reforms, and denounce wickedness, and yet your children will be captivated by the glittering saloon of sin unless you can make your home a brighter place than any other place on earth to them. Oh! gather all charms into your house. If you can afford it bring books and pictures and cheerful entertainments to the household. But, above all, teach those children, not by half an hour twice a year on the Sabbath day, but day after day; and every day teach them that religion is a great gladness; that it throws chains of gold about the neck; that it takes no spring from the foot, no blitheness from the heart, no sparkle from the eye, ringing from the laughter; but that "her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace." I sympathize with the work being done in many of our cities, by beautiful rooms are set apart by our Young Men's Christian Associations, and I pray God to prosper them in all things. But I tell you there is something back of that and before that: We need more happy, consecrated, cheerful Christian homes everywhere.

Again I remark, that many of our business men are tempted to put the attainment of money above the value of the soul. It is a grand thing to have plenty of money. The more you get of it, the better, if it come honestly and usefulness. For the lack of it, sickness dies without medicine, and hunger finds its coffin in the empty bread tray, and nakedness shivers for lack of clothes and fire. When I hear a man in canting tirade against money—a Christian man—as though it had no possible use on earth, and I find no interest in it at all, family circle: "I am ruined. Everything is gone. I am all ruined." His wife said: "I am left;" and the little child threw up its hands and said: "Papa I am here." The aged grandmother seated in the room said: "Then you have all the promises of God besides John." And he burst into tears, and said: "God forgive me, that I have been so ungrateful. I find that I have a great many things left. God forgive me."

Again I remark that many of our business men are tempted to neglect their home duties. How often it is that the store and the home seem to clash, but there ought not to be any collision. It is often the case that the father is the mere treasurer of the family, a sort of agent to see that they have dry goods and groceries. The work of family government he does not touch. Once or twice a year he calls the children up on a Sabbath afternoon, when he has a half hour he does not exactly know what to do with, and in that one-half hour he disciplines the children and chides them and corrects their faults, and gives them a great deal of good advice, and then wonders all the rest of the year that his children do not do better, when they have the wonderful advantage of that semi-annual castigation.

The family table, which ought to be the place for pleasant discussion and cheerfulness, often becomes the place of pernicious expeditions. If there be any blessing asked at all, it is cut off at both ends, and with the hand on the fingers, making estimates in the interstices of the repast. The work done the hat goes to the head, and he starts down the street, and before the family has arisen from the table he has bound up another bundle of goods, and says to the customer, "Anything more I can do for you today, sir?" A man has more responsibilities than those which are discharged by putting competent instructors over his children, and giving them a drawing master and a music teacher. The physical culture of the child will not be attended to unless the father looks to it. He must sometimes lose his dignity. He must unlimber his joints. He must sometimes lead them out to their sports and games. The parent who cannot forget the severe duties of life sometimes, to fly the kite, and trundle the hoop, and chase the ball, and jump the rope with his children, ought never to have been tempted out of a crusty and unredeemable solitariness. If you want to keep your children away from places of sin you can only do it by making your home attractive. You may preach sermons, and advocate reforms, and denounce wickedness, and yet your children will be captivated by the glittering saloon of sin unless you can make your home a brighter place than any other place on earth to them. Oh! gather all charms into your house. If you can afford it bring books and pictures and cheerful entertainments to the household. But, above all, teach those children, not by half an hour twice a year on the Sabbath day, but day after day; and every day teach them that religion is a great gladness; that it throws chains of gold about the neck; that it takes no spring from the foot, no blitheness from the heart, no sparkle from the eye, ringing from the laughter; but that "her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace."

I sympathize with the work being done in many of our cities, by beautiful rooms are set apart by our Young Men's Christian Associations, and I pray God to prosper them in all things. But I tell you there is something back of that and before that: We need more happy, consecrated, cheerful Christian homes everywhere.

Again I remark, that many of our business men are tempted to put the attainment of money above the value of the soul. It is a grand thing to have plenty of money. The more you get of it, the better, if it come honestly and usefulness. For the lack of it, sickness dies without medicine, and hunger finds its coffin in the empty bread tray, and nakedness shivers for lack of clothes and fire. When I hear a man in canting tirade against money—a Christian man—as though it had no possible use on earth, and I find no interest in it at all,

I come almost to think that the heaven that would be appropriate for him would be an everlasting poor house. While my friends, we do admit that there is such a thing as a lawful use of money—a profitable use of money—let us recognize also the fact that money cannot satisfy a man's soul, that it cannot glitter in the dark valley, that it cannot pay our fare across the Jordan of death, that it cannot unlock the gate of heaven. There are men in all occupations who seem to act as though they thought that a pack of bonds and mortgages could be traded off for a title to heaven, and as though gold would be a lawful tender in that place where it is so common they make pavements out of it. Treasures in heaven are the only incorruptible treasures.

Have you ever ciphered out in the rule of loss and gain the sum: "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" However fine your apparel, the winds of death will flutter it like rags. Homespun and a threadbare coat have sometimes been the shadow of coming robes made white in the blood of the lamb. The pearl of great price is worth more than any gem you can bring from the ocean, than Australian or Brazilian mines strung in one carnet. Seek after God; find his righteousness, and shall be well here; all shall be well hereafter.

Some of you remember the shipwreck of the Central America. That noble steamer had, I think, about 500 passengers aboard. Suddenly the storm came, and the surges trampled the decks and swung into the hatches, and there went up a hundred-voiced death shrieks. The foam on the jaw of the wave. The pitching of the steamer as though it were leaping a mountain. The dismal flare of the signal rockets. The long cough of the steam pipes. The hiss of extinguished furnaces. The walking of God at the wave! The steamer went not down without a struggle. As the passengers stationed themselves in rows, to bale out the vessel, hark to the thump of the buckets, as men unused to toil, with blistered hands, strained muscle, tug for their lives. There is a sail seen against the sky. The flash of the distress gun is noticed, its voice heard not, for it is choked in the louder booming of the sea. A few passengers escaped; but the steamer gave one great lurch and was gone! So there are some men who sail on prosperously in life. All's well; all's well. But at last some financial disaster comes; a euroclydon. Down they go! the bottom of the commercial sea is strewn with shattered hulls. But because your property goes not let your soul go. Though all else perish, save that; for I have to tell you of a more stupendous shipwreck than that which I just mentioned. God launched this world 6,000 years ago. It has been going on under freight of mountains and immortals; but one day it will stagger at the cry of fire. The timbers of rock will burn, the mountains flame like masts, and the clouds, like sails in the judgment hurricane. Then God shall take the passengers off the deck, and from the berths those who have long been asleep in Jesus, and he will set them far beyond the reach of storm and peril. But how many shall go down will never be known, until it shall be announced one day in heaven; the shipwreck of a world! So many millions drowned! Oh! my dear bears, whatever you lose, though your houses go, though your lands go, though all your earthly possessions perish, may God Almighty, through the everlasting covenant save all your souls.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

THURSDAY..... July 18, 1895.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For Governor,
P. WAT HARDIN, of Mercer.For Lieutenant Governor,
R. T. TYLER, of Fulton.

For Treasurer,

R. C. FORD, of Clay.

For Auditor,

L. C. NORMAN, of Boone.

For Register of the Land Office,

G. B. SWANGO, of Wolfe.

For Attorney General,

W. J. HENDRICK, of Fleming.

For Secretary of State,

HENRY S. HALE, of Graves.

For Supt. of Public Instruction,

ED PORTER THOMPSON, of Owen.

For Commissioners of Agriculture,

ION B. NALL, of Louisville.

MR. LYKINS, who will you vote for if you are our Representative? You can't dodge the question. Answer. Mr. Rose has expressed himself.

THE Courier-Journal seems not content to let up its tirade against the state ticket. It ought to be magnanimous enough to give up when defeated.

JOE BLACKBURN is creating quite a commotion among the politicians. He seems to be taking care of himself though, and he believes himself a sure winner.

We are for the people who stand by the mountains. Both Buckner and Blackburn were our friends at the state convention, while McCleary stood by his "neighbor" 300 miles away and voted every time against Swango and Kendall.

The Sheriff of Mt. Sterling is making arrangements to hang John Johnson, the colored murderer of policeman Evans, who is sentenced to be executed on the 16th of August. Johnson has weakened and his prayers can be heard on the outside of the jail. The hanging will take place in some vacant lot, and will probably be witnessed by ten thousand people.

The Democratic campaign committee held a conference July 18, at which it was decided that chairman Norman should at once communicate with John W. Yerkes, who will probably be the chairman of the Republican campaign committee, to arrange for a conference between them to select dates and a series of debates between Messrs. Hardin and Bradley "On the Issues" of the campaign."

INDUSTRY has ceased to hum "in these parts." About the only humming that is being done now is the buzzing of the flies as they swarm about the "sugar and cracker" perfumed faces of a score of idle loafers, wearing out the counters of our disheartened and discouraged merchants, or whittling to pieces dry goods boxes on the street corners. Verily, this is a progressive age.

THERE are no new developments in railroad matters. The calculations etc., on the frozen creek route have not yet been made public, and we shall be compelled to await the company's action. In the meantime we should be alive to our interests and let no opportunity escape us. Those who have the subscription papers in hand should see the property owner at once and secure every contribution possible. Let no stone be unturned.

The re-nomination of Hon. G. B. Swango for register of the land office by the Democratic party, and the nomination of Hon. J. E. Quicksall for the same place by the Populist party is quite a singular co-incident. They reside in the same county and in the same town, and are the joint owners of the Hazel Green Flowering Mills and Lumber Company. Mr. Quicksall has declined the nomination tendered him. Possibly he thought it would be better that he should remain miller and Mr. Swango register, notwithstanding rotation in office is both Democratic and Populistic. At any rate neither will be the gainer to any great degree unless the times improve. The wheels of state government like those of the mill grind exceedingly small, and the prizes of each are always doubly earned.

THE comming primary will bring the question to every Democrat in Wolfe and Morgan counties as to whether we shall endorse McCleary? It is a question of vital importance and we should make no mistake after the 27th, inst. it can not be remedied. In the first place McCleary has taken no positive stand on the money question. He talks and writes about it but comes to no conclusion. He panders to the prejudice of both sides and thereby makes a straddle. He talks silver to silver men and gold to gold men, and for this reason alone we should spurn him out of our mouths. McCleary and his friends say we should support a man favorable to his election for Senator, because we are neighbors. Very well, but is this argument consistent with his acts. On the 25th ultimo our legislative district presented two candidates before the state convention at Louisville—Swango and Kendall—and how did McCleary "neighbor" with us? Kendall never got a vote from McCleary's county and Swango only got four and yet we are asked to support him because he is our "neighbor." McCleary used every influence possible to defeat Judge Swango and made no secret of it either. Now let every man who is a friend to Swango and Kendall put his shoulder to the wheel and see that a McCleary man is not our nominee. Make the candidates express themselves on this point in particular.

TWO GIRLS

Alleged to Have Been Brutally Treated By a Kentucky Moonshiner.

RICHMOND, KY., JULY 18.—Near the Jackson county line, 18 miles from this place, Manse Rector, an alleged notorious moonshiner, living among the hills of Jackson county, called at the home of Mrs. James Pace, a widow, living about 10 miles from Berea, and, after having left the house and waited until he had a favorable opportunity, induced Susan Pace, a child 14 years old, from her home to go to a spring some distance away. Here, it is said, he assaulted the child, a lad and left her in a seemingly dying condition. She is a cripple, and after some hours, tried to crawl to the house. A neighbor going to the spring saw tracks of blood on the ground and followed them to where the little girl was lying. She is horribly mangled and may die. Rector disappeared, and it is supposed that he is now hiding among the hills and underbrush in Jackson county. There is great excitement among the citizens of the little village, and posse have been organized to hunt him down. He always goes armed with a shotgun and pistol, and if overtaken there will be trouble.

About six weeks ago, it is said, Rector assaulted in the same manner a young lady of the name of Jackson, living in Jackson county. In this case Rector, it is claimed, watched for a chance and carried the girl off by force to his own haunt in the hills, and kept her there for three or four days. He sent her away afterward, telling her that if she ever disclosed what had taken place he would kill her. Miss Jackson and her mother believed he would keep his word, and only told of the assault to the Police Judge of Berea, this county, where they have been living, fearing to return to their home in Jackson county.

The part of the county in which these outrages occurred is a wild, hilly region, off from the railroads, and accessible by only one pipe. It will be an easy matter for Rector to make his escape, but diligent efforts are being made to follow him and capture him.

Four Hours Sufficient for Inflammatory Rheumatism.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.
MESSRS. DuBois & Webb, Louisville, Ky.
GENTLEMEN—Through the kindness of Mr. Spencer Cooper, editor of the Hazel Green Herald, I was afforded an opportunity to try the efficacy of your "Electropoise," and I must say it acted like magic—almost a miracle to me. I was taken down with inflammatory rheumatism and in twenty-four hours my legs were swollen and my limbs ached with pain almost unbearable. I had no use of elbow, hips, knees or feet, and in this helpless condition I continued to suffer until Mr. Cooper came and offered to use the electropoise. I had no faith whatever, but, like a drowning man catching at a straw, consented to its use. In four hours the pain left my leg, to which the "poise" was attached, and I continued to grow better and was able to sit up all day, and had not a pain about me. I resumed my business and feel as well as I ever did. I should add that about two years ago I was confined to my bed four months by a similar attack that the "poise" might have cured in four days. I BELIEVE now, and hope all who are afflicted as I was will try the same remedy. Gratefully,

F. N. DAY.

We are acquainted with the facts in this case, and can vouch for the truth of the above.

Whooping Cough.

There is no danger from this disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given. It liquefies the tough mucus and aids its expectoration. It also lessens the severity and frequency of paroxysms of coughing, and insures a speedy recovery. There is not the least danger in giving the remedy to children or babies, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale by John M. Rose.

Our Own People

Tell What

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has Done for Them.

"When our baby was three weeks old he broke out with sores which the doctor called a severe case of eczema. We tried everything that we could think of but he failed to get relief. We consulted several doctors but their medicine was of no avail. Seeing a similar case which had been

Cured by Hood's

Sarsaparilla we determined to try it. I prepared some of this medicine and it proved to be the only thing which gave satisfaction. Our child is now two years and eight months old and weighs 40 pounds. He is a sprightly lad and very healthy. He has been completely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This has proved a celebrated case in this vicinity and his cure has been a surprise to all those who know about it." J. T. WHALEY, Hazel Green, Kentucky.

The record of remarkable cures effected enables us truthfully to say that

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the Only

True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye today. Be sure to get Hood's and only Hood's. Do not be induced to buy any other.

Miss Barbara McClure, of Grassy Creek, is visiting Miss Sabina Taulbee on the Heights.

Mis Maud Henry, of near West Liberty, is visiting the family of her uncle, John H. Pieratt, of this place.

Mrs. Spencer Cooper will accept the thanks of the employees of THE HERALD for a plate of splendid eating applies.

Miss Sabina Taulbee will please accept the thanks of E. Roy Smith for a box of nice apples. He shared them with the dev't.

You cannot be well unless your blood is pure. Therefore purify your blood with the best blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mesdames M. E. Turner and Evaline O'Hair, of Paris, Illinois, are visiting at Ezel and will be at our place for a protracted visit shortly.

A much-needed rain came last Monday. Corn and grass is much improved, and the water supply, which was very scant in many sections, is now good enough.

Joe Pieratt, of Grassy, was in town Tuesday. Miss Maud Henry of West Liberty, who has been visiting in our town, accompanied Mr. Pieratt home.

Rev. Gordon, a Presbyterian theologian student is spending his vacation with us. He will probably hold a series of meetings at the Presbyterian church before he leaves.

How about having a two days' race course on our track this fall? It is now too late to have a fair, but we could hold a successful race meeting with our traps and pacers.

Judge Carson, we wish to call your attention to the bad condition of the state road between this place and Maytown. It is much out of repair and should be worked at once.

Spencer Cooper bought himself a fine race mare while in Lexington. He is a heavy weight ride, but in a race by himself, like that bug not unknown to fame, gets there with both feet in the stirrups.

A land syndicate has purchased 30,000 acres of land near Hogtown, on Little St. An effort will be made to have the Boston railroad to go by this body of land and tap the C. & O. road above Morehead.

The school teachers of Wolfe county who are well qualified should congratulate themselves on having such a thoroughly competent superintendent. Mr. Pieratt is holding up a high standard of scholarship for certificates, which makes it all the better for teachers, parents and children.

Bro. Pieratt has seen a cat at Davis Hamilton's, on Hawkins branch; he is seven years old. "Thomas" is toothless, and can't hear it thunder. His sight is much impaired but is improving, and Bro. Pieratt says he is receiving his second eyeglass and that he will vouch for the truth of the whole story.

William Burton passed through town last Saturday, enroute to Caney with 50 whisky barrels, which means that in a few days there will be a plenty of many barrels of brandy. The liquor business may be a legal one, but it is certainly not a commendable one.

John Pieratt has the boss drummer which may be converted into a spring wagon by changing the bed and attaching a set of heavy springs. It is one of his own invention, and the drummers say it beats anything of the kind on the road.

Quite a goodly number of people from Hazel Green attended the quarterly meeting at the Chapel last Sunday among whom we noticed Misses Anna Slimp, Molie Haney, Anna Ringo and E. Roy Smith and his girl. John Cravens and Mrs. Jo Clark chaperoned the crowd.

Editor Spencer Cooper, of THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD, what Max O'Rell called the representative county newspaper of America, was yesterday with Judge and Mrs. G. B. Swango. He was accompanied by his wife, is only now getting home from the Democratic convention.—Frankfort Capitol, July 10.

Dr. Taubee and Nickell report the following named persons under medical treatment: Mrs. J. H. Rose, J. B. Thompson, Mrs. E. C. Bell, Mrs. Bane McKinney, Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. Anna Dykes, Mrs. Francis Fallon, Mrs. Anna Gibbs, Marian Gibbs, Mrs. Susan Williams, Mrs. John Elam, Lee City; Mrs. John Gilley, Tommie Walters.

The public school will begin next Monday, the 22d inst., and the friends of education should see that every child in the school age is ready with books and satchel. Curtis Quickwill will take charge, and it goes without saying that the school will prove a success. He is a teacher of long experience, and has always shown himself a model teacher.

Napoleon lost the battle of Leipzig after a fit of indigestion. If the battle of Leipzig is to be fought today Bonaparte could, for 25 cents, purchase of your druggist a box of Ramon's Tonic Liver Pills, and in a week's time he would feel like a new creature. Thus days of great events often depend for their success upon very slight causes.

If some of the patrons of this school district would pay as much attention and manifest as much interest in the welfare of the pupils as they do in the welfare of their own interests, the prospects of the present session would be far more promising. Divest yourselves, one and all, of private gain, and go to work for the good of the school.

Rollin A. Kash, police judge of Hazel Green, and James H. Swango, another limb of the law, have opened up their office in the rear of the brick building on the corner of Main and Broadway. They have the best law and lawyers ever known, and coming fresh from Governor Knott's law school, where they graduated in high standing, they are now ready for business. Give the boys a call.

Rev. G. W. Randolph advertises in this paper that he can cure all cases of stuttering. Bro. Randolph wishes us to say that he has a large number of preachers whom he treats. Neither does he charge widows, nor orphans under eighteen years of age who are unable to pay. Gov. Stone, of Mississippi, says: "I am cognizant of many remarkable cures effected by him. I therefore commend him to all who stutter."

Religious.

Rev. Pieratt will begin a meeting at the Pieratt school-house, near Maytown, next Friday, and will continue for several days.

Rev. C. S. Oney preached Quite a number of our people attended and reported a very prosperous meeting.

Rev. T. J. Pieratt is fast developing into the Talmage of the mountains. In the past thirty-seven days he has received into the church sixty-nine members.

Charley French, a former student of the Academy, is spending his vacation in Powell and Estill counties. He is now with Rev. D. G. Combs, in Madison county.

Rev. Taylor and Pieratt preached at the Bushong school-house last Saturday and Sunday. They report five baptisms and four confessions. They also report the church established at the head of Stillwater a year ago with thirteen communicants now has a membership of ninety.

Orange Blossoms.

In an appropriate ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Perry, on Pleasant Run, Rev. W. F. Lykins sealed the matrimonial happiness of W. W. McClure and Miss Elia Perry.

The happy event occurred Wednesday evening July 8, 1895. J. P. Haney Miss Little Oakley were the attendants.

The bride is one of the most beautiful and popular young ladies in our community, whose society was much sought after, and who is admirably fitted to grace the home of her young husband, and will do all in her power to make him a happy sacrifice for him.

He is son of Dr. R. F. McElroy, and is popular, industrious and worthy of the good fortune in his choice of a life companion.—Morgan Messenger.

Geo. W. Drake who is so well known as a detective and United States deputy marshal, took the midnight train at Winchester one night last week for parts unknown, and changed his position as detective on the E. & S. and the W. & S. which he had held for three or four years, and his office as deputy United States marshal. He is ex-sheriff of Wolfe county, and has all his life enjoyed the confidence and esteem of his neighbors and friends. He is an efficient officer, having been particularly successful in working cases and taking arrests. He has a lovely wife and a family of very interesting children, who are now living in Campion. It seems that Mr. Drake has yielded to the temptations of public life, and has become a slave to his appetite, and the neglect of his family and business was the result.—Jackson Hustler.

The above has been going the rounds of the press for several days and THE HERALD wishes to say that is unjust treatment of Detective Drake. True he did resign his office of deputy United States marshal and was on his way to the west. He however met with an accident while in a sleep between St. Louis and Kentucky, and lost his money and penises. He was robbed of $1,150 and being a stranger in a strange land, it was natural that he return to the friends that love him most; thus he is with his home people at Campion, Ky. Mr. Drake is much beloved by the people of Wolfe county, and their sympathies are surely extended to him in his trouble. He is a most perfect gentleman, genial and kind, and George, we are you.

Union Sunday-School Convention.

Pursuant to a call of the county committee the various delegates of the different Sunday-schools of Wolfe county met in the M. E. church at Hazel Green, on Saturday evening, July 14, 1895. Rev. Combs, called the meeting to order when he explained the object of the same, after which the program was carried out, and the reports of the various schools were called for.

The Sunday-school held in the M. E. church at this place reported as follows:

No. of schools enrolled, 80; average attendance, 52; four classes, presided over by four teachers.

Christian Church—No. in attendance, 40; four classes, presided over by four teachers.

Sandfield—No. enrolled, 70; four classes, presided over by four teachers.

Officers for the next year were elected as follows: H. H. Swango, president; Miss Marion Quickwill, secretary; S. S. Combs, treasurer.

The following resolution was offered and adopted:

Resolved, That we exert a greater effort than we have heretofore to extend the organization of Sunday-schools and spread the gospel throughout the land, and especially in Wolfe county.

John W. TAULBEE, Sec'y.

That Tired Feeling.

Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous symptom. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is especially liable to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hood's PILLS act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the bowels and liver. 25 cents.

Republican District Convention.

The Republicans of Morgan and Wolfe counties (91st legislative district) are requested to meet at West Liberty Monday, July 22, at 1:30 p. m. for the purpose of nominating a candidate or representative in this district. Morgan county is entitled to 6 votes and Wolfe 4.

Trickery.

This is the season of the year in which married men who have been drudging for a year make up their minds to leave their nests and start for a new life.

This is also the season of the year in which married men induce friends to write anonymous letters to the wives who have been drudging for a year, which read as follows:

"X. Y. Z. is the victim of a friend who is interested in your welfare and not go to the country this summer. A word to the wise is sufficient. Your husband will be only too glad to see you go. Watch him."

It's a mean trick, but it works.

FRANKFORT, KY., July 14.—Marshall Garner and Isaac Huffman, two young farmers living on the edge of Shelby county, not far from here got into a row this afternoon, and one of them got a bullet knifed in the side, which will live. They were alone on the upskirpe when the fight occurred, and no one knows the cause. Garner was cut on the face and shoulder and in the right side, and Huffman received nearly the same wounds on the left side.

W. H. Phillips, E. Schneider, Mrs. Morton Funk, Mrs. G. B. Taylor, Sam Smith, J. W. Carroll, David Arnold.

They will answer for the same purpose.

No medicine, no bad taste in your mouth,

All Men Should Marry.

It was clearly meant that all men, as well as all women, should marry, and those who, for whatever reason, miss this obvious destiny are, from nature's point of view, failures. It is not a question of personal felicity (which in eight cases out of ten may be more than problematic), but of race responsibility. The unmarried man is a skulker, who, in order to secure his own ease, dooms some woman who has a rightful claim upon him to celibacy; and in so doing defrauds himself of the opportunity for mental and moral development which only the normal experience can provide. He deliberately stunts the stature of his manhood, impoverishes his heart and brain, and chokes up all the sweetest potentialities of his soul. To himself he is apt to appear like the wise fox that detects the trap, though it be ever so cunningly baited, that refuses to surrender his liberty for the sake of an appetizing chicken or rabbit, which may after all be a decoy, stuffed with sawdust; while, as a matter of fact, his case is that of the cowardly servant in the parable, who, for fear of losing his talent, hid it in a napkin, and in the end was deemed unworthy of his stewardship.—North American Review.]

Don't Stop Tobacco.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing comfort, health and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco, to an inveterate user, becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves.

Baco-Curo is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872 without a failure, purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking Baco-Curo—it will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to permanently cure any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent interest, Baco-Curo is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day when you took your first chew or smoke. Sold by all druggists, with our iron-clad guarantee, at $1.00 per box, three boxes (80 day's supply) $2.50, or sent direct upon receipt of price. Send six 2-cent stamps for sample box, booklet and proofs free. Eureka Chemical & Manufacturing Company, manufacturing chemists, La Crosse, Wisconsin.

DEAR SIR—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the "No-No-Ba" and now I am recovering but slowly, and I have actually learned of your "Baco-Curo." Three weeks ago today I commenced using your preparation, and now I consider myself completely cured; I am in perfect health, and the terrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely disappeared. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it. Yours very truly, C. W. HORNICK.

IT'S INJURIOUS TO STOP SUDDENLY and don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as is nothing more than a subterfuge. In the middle of stopping of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about BACO-CURO.

CRIME AND ROMANCE.

Two Ex-Convicts Strangely Entangled.

Wm. Wells, direct from the Indiana State Prison North, at Indianapolis, where he had just finished a five-year term for robbing a store in Indianapolis, arrived in Jeffersonville last evening in search of his wife, who married an ex-convict named Thomas Hard without securing a divorce. Hard and a wife whom he deserted in Columbus, Ind., leaving her and two children in destitute circumstances.

Wells was unable to find any trace of the couple, although he ascertained that Hard and Mrs. Wells had been living in Jeffersonville and that Hard was known by another name. Wells left yesterday, but did not say where he was going. He was twenty-five years old and seven years of his life have been spent behind prison walls. His first came from Columbus to serve one year for petty theft. He was only sixteen years of age, but his mother saved him from the Reform School by pre-judging himself and swearing that he was eighteen years old. "Wells' mother and sister were women of the world and not long ago the mother died. The girl is now leading an abandoned career."

It was after Wells finished his last term in prison that he returned to Columbus. He married a pretty young woman, Barnett by name, but being unable to support her grabbed a store and was arrested. For this he was committed to the Jeffersonville penitentiary for three years. His wife followed and made her home within the shadow of the big prison walls. Two years had passed, and one night Hard was detected looting the store Wells had robbed. Hard, as given a two-year term in Jeffersonville. While he was being brought down on the train Wells was going north on another, having been released from the penitentiary. The men chanced to see each other. Wells and his wife again met at Columbus, were re-united and moved to Indianapolis, where they began life anew, and seemed against them, however. Wells got out of work and then committed the robbery which landed him in prison at Michigan City. It was afterward that Hard went to Columbus, found Mrs. Wells brought her to Jeffersonville and took up their residence. Wells says he will not stop until he finds the pair.

Poultry Facts in a Nutshell.
Give the hens sweet milk to promote laying and health. Turkey eggs hatch best in the ground, where it is warm and dry. Keep setting nests well dusted with insect powder and rub a little sweet oil on the hen's heads once a week. Put all the poultry out of the poultry house, then place a little sulphide of carbon in a shallow dish, go out and shut the house up tight, leave it twenty-four hours, then open and ventilate. Be careful of fire or light, for the gas is highly explosive. Whitewash all the premises, then place a few choice and wholesome feed boxes away. —Ohio Farmer.

A New Feminine Industry.
Several young women in London have started a novel and sensible dressmaking establishment. They take last season's dresses and make them over in the prevailing fashion. No entirely new dresses are made, and the charges are reasonable. They should succeed, for the world is full of nice people who do not often buy a completely new dress, and to those who sometimes have dresses given them by their richer sisters such a change would prove a decided benefit.

The mother of Mr. Moody, of Moody and Sanky fame, is still living at the age of ninety. She has twenty-seven grand-children and seventeen great grandchildren.

Wells was unable to find any trace of the couple, although he ascertained that Hard and Mrs. Wells had been living in Jeffersonville and that Hard was known by another name. Wells left yesterday, but did not say where he was going. He was twenty-five years old and seven years of his life have been spent behind prison walls.

Mme. Dieulafoy, of Paris, has worn men's clothes since 1870. She goes to balls in a swallow-tail coat, with her hair clipped close to the head, yet she is called "exquisitely womanly."

Mrs. Rebecca Ming, of Mendham, N. J., is within one month of her ninety-seventh birthday, is healthy and active, has never had the services of a doctor and yet has never traveled on a railroad train and never been more than five miles away from the place where she was born.

The grave of Nancy Hanks Lincoln, the mother of President Lincoln, at Rockport, Indiana, was decorated on July 4 by the women of Perry, Spencer and Warrick counties. It is inclosed by an iron fence and is marked by a simple, plain headstone, on which is inscribed: "Nancy Hanks Lincoln, Mother of the Martyred President. Died November 5, 1818, aged 35 years."

Selling silver polish to support herself and father, Miss Foote, daughter of C. B. Foote, President of the late failed Commercial Bank of Cincinnati, goes from house to house daily. The young woman is well educated, but could find nothing to do. She manufactures and sells the polish, and what she makes supports herself and father, and is their only income.

Abridge History of a Courtship.

Met him—met him again—in love with him. Met him again—not longer in love with him, but he is in love with me because I am so beautiful. Met him again—he is still in love with me, not only because I am so beautiful, but because I am also good. Sorry for him. Again I met him—he is colder than he was. Think he has forgotten my beauty and my goodness. I, however, am inclined to think that I am in love with him after all. How lucky he is, and how angry mamma will be. Mama proved to be strangely pleased. Makes me angry, for I know she is not a good judge of a young girl's heart. Flirted with him outrageously to make mamma angry. Didn't succeed. Engaged to him—glad. Married to him—sorry.

NIGHT RIDERS

Dra. Caldwell County Farmers From Their Home and Murder One.

PRINCETON, KY., JULY 9.—Hewlett Howlett was shot and killed and his father dangerously wounded by a mob last night. The mob went to Joseph Howlett's house and called for Hewlett, and being informed that he was not at home opened fire on the old man. They then forced an entrance into the house and took Hewlett by force and dragged him into the yard, when he was shot and left for dead. They then went back into the house and tied a rope around the neck of a younger brother and started to hang him. He begged so piteously they turned him loose, but threatened him with instant death if he ever divulged anything. They then parted in squads to guard the premises. After the mob disappeared Hewlett called his brother and told him to go for a neighbor. He started, but was soon apprehended by the mob and made to return. Hewlett lingered until daylight, when death ended his sufferings.

The coroner held an inquest this afternoon, and the jury returned the usual verdict. An immense crowd was present, but every one seemed afraid to speak.

There seems to be no reason for such a crime. From some remarks made by the mob they only cause for the killing was that Hewlett was suspected of burning some fences, and possibly a house, but no proof has ever been established of his guilt. When the mob caught him one of them remarked that he would never do any more burning. He may have had some personal difficulties with some neighbors, but nothing to justify such a crime. He had also been instrumental in securing some indictments against some offenders. Within twenty-four hours some of the mob will be in custody, if they do not get out of the country tonight. Developments are anxiously awaited.

We had an epidemic of dysentery in this vicinity last summer," says Samuel S. Pollock, of Brice-land, Cal. "I was taken with it and suffered severely until some one called my attention to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I procured a bottle and felt better after the first dose. Before one-half of the bottle had been used I was well. I recommended it to my friends and their experience was the same. We all unite in saying it is the best." For sale by J. M. Rose.
